

An absolutely-positioned block container within a normally-positioned block container that is not the first block within the flow. Should be positioned relative to the reference area of the containing block container.

The outer block container has a background color of "silver", the inner has a background color of "gray".

An absolutely-positioned block container within another block container. Should be positioned relative to the containing block-container's reference area.

left="10mm" top="10mm", placing it 10mm from the left and top edges of the containing block container (which is itself normally positioned). Block progression dimension is 30mm.