The CSS properties `-ah-table-omit-header-at-break` and `-ah-table-omit-footer-at-break` are used to prevent a table header or footer from appearing after a table breaks across a page but allow the header or footer to appear when the table breaks across a column.

These CSS properties have been extended to allow for a value of `column`. This value will omit the header or footer when the table breaks across a column but not when it breaks across a page.

The following table has the CSS properties `-ah-table-omit-header-at-break: column;` and `-ah-table-omit-footer-at-break: column;` in its style definition.

This is the table header
This is a cell

This is a cell
This is a cell

This is a cell
This is the table footer

This is the table header
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell

This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell

This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is a cell
This is the table footer